

THE EXPERIMENT

'Don't you see?' said the man with the wires in his hands.
'Don't you know what we'll discover when we finish your brain scans?'
No, of course you don't

'Not to be too unkind, but the science of the mind is better left up to the experts who can process what they find in their white lab coats.'

'But doc,' I interrupted,
'Will my circuits be corrupted?'
And the doc scrunched his face as in laughter he erupted like I told a joke.

'My dear friend lie back in bed!
This is all over your head.
If you continue to shout you will scare our porcine friend and we can't have that.'

So he hooked up the machine and he aimed the laser beam and I felt my mind receding as the pig started to scream like a grown man.

Grab your partner, dosey-doe
I will take you toe to toe Funniest thing that you ever did see That scientist is chasing me I will lead him all around With two feet upon the ground
I'm a man

Distant memory
Bacon not fleece
Your true destiny
Perish for meat
